

Young Artists' Summer Show

Since February the Creative Arts team have helped the students at Queensmill School prepare a submission to the Royal Academy of Arts “Young Artists” competition.

The Theme of the submission is “Special Interests”.

The AV room has been transformed into a Dinosaur World, Transport World and a Music World.

We took footage of the students interacting with the art installations that they had helped inspire, design and make.

This footage has been edited to make a video submission to the Royal Academy’s Young Artists Summer Show to celebrate their unique creativity .

It was wonderful to see the students working collaboratively on a group project that looked stunning when completed and installed in The AV Room.

For the Transport world secondary students worked really hard to produce a Plane, Train, Boat and a Bus. They used their imagination and decorated each mode of transport with vibrant colours and had their name signed onto the piece of art that they made.
